

Advisory Opinion No. 75-15

QUESTION:

May I sell my professional services to employees of the regulated industry, such services being purchased by them in the capacity of their personal, private, or family lives?

RESPONSE:

Yes, you may. The connection here is certainly remote and indirect. The principal of "not affecting a reasonable man to depart from the faithful and impartial discharge of his public duties" cited in the previous question is also applicable here.

December 10, 1975