ETHICS COMMISSION RELEASES CAMPAIGN RESOURCES, WILL HOST CANDIDATE BRIEFING IN PREPARATION FOR CAMPAIGN SEASON

CARSON CITY, NEVADA (August 7, 2025)

With campaign season heating up, the Nevada Commission on Ethics is providing more resources to public officials running for elected office. The Commission's new Campaign Season Compliance Resources lists the dos and don'ts of official government action and campaigns and includes examples from recent Ethics Commission Advisory and Complaint cases.

The new resource document can be found here: Campaign Season Compliance Resources

In addition to the new compliance resources, the Commission will be hosting a Candidates and Campaigns Virtual Briefing on September 9 at 12:15PM. The briefing will cover campaign and ethics compliance basics to assist public officials avoid ethics trouble in 2026.

Executive Director Ross Armstrong explained the enhanced outreach efforts, "The Commission focuses on education and outreach as part of its statutory duties. We would much rather invest time in prevention and answer questions from public officials proactively than to have to process complaints where a public official has strayed from the law." Interested candidates and campaign can RSVP by completing this form: <https://forms.office.com/g/WHKMWuzKqg>
